

University of Exeter School of Education Talks: Learning from the COVID Crisis. 16th November 2020

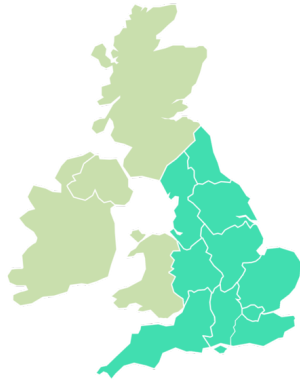

This was a really good webinar about what has happened to children with special educational needs during the pandemic.

Here are two presentations

1. Dominic Wall is a Head Teacher of a Special School in Bradford. His talk was about Medicine in Special Schools and how children with medical conditions have been excluded.

1. Some children with special needs and disabilities have not been able to go to school for a long time, because of Covid
2. This is because the schools have not been given enough information about how to keep them safe

3. It is also because in England, schools do not always have good arrangements to meet the needs of these children

4. Some people think that we should make it easier for children to go back to school. But other people say it is too dangerous unless there is protection like in hospitals.

5. When the pandemic is over, we must make sure that we have good plans for these children so that they do not miss school

If anyone would like a copy of the full presentations, please email the administrator: R.K.Harwood@exeter.ac.uk